RE: Priyank Shah v. Collecto, Inc., et al.
Civil Action No. DKC 2004-4059

Dear Counsel:

Mr. Worsham has filed electronically a document that purports also to have the signatures of other counsel, but the document does not comport with the court's procedures concerning signatures. Furthermore, the document purports to be a dismissal of certain claims and an amendment of another, but is not accompanied by an Amended Complaint in red lined format as required by our rules. The court will assume that other counsel in fact gave permission for the filing of the document unless they disavow the filing within 10 days. In addition, however, Plaintiff is directed to file an Amended Complaint, along with a redlined version, and then Defendant Collecto should notify the court whether its Motion to Dismiss or for Summary Judgment is moot, or should be amended in any way, by the amendments made by Plaintiff.

Despite the informal nature of this letter, it constitutes an Order of the Court and the clerk is instructed to docket it as such.

Very truly yours,

/s/
